CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, on behalf of herself and others similarly situated, by and through her undersigned counsel, files this Complaint, and in support thereof states and avers as follows:

NATURE OF ACTION

1. This is a consumer class action on behalf of all persons and entities who purchased CertainTeed shingles manufactured and/or distributed by CertainTeed under various trade names.
2. Defendant CertainTeed Corporation (“CertainTeed”) manufactured and marketed roofing shingle products under various brand names, including without limitation, Horizon, Independence, Hearthstead, Hallmark, Woodscape, CertainTeed, Sealdon and War-Sealdon (“Shingles”). The Shingles, which are all composed of asphalt, natural fibers, filler and mineral granules have been marketed and warranted by Defendant as durable, and as offering long-lasting protection.

3. Commencing in or around 1987, CertainTeed began manufacturing, warranting, advertising and selling defective Shingles to tens of thousands of consumers throughout the United States. Defendant failed to adequately design, formulate, and test the Shingles before warranting, advertising and selling them as durable and suitable roofing products. Defendant warranted, advertised and sold to Plaintiff and the Class Shingles that Defendant reasonably should have known were defectively designed, failed prematurely due to moisture invasion, cracking, curling, blistering, deteriorating, and otherwise not performing in accordance with the reasonable expectations of Plaintiff and the Class that such products be durable and suitable for use as roofing products. As a result, Plaintiff and the Class have experienced continuous and progressive damage to their property.

4. Defendant's sales brochure stated that the Shingles were, among other things resilient and durable.

5. CertainTeed has consistently represented to consumers that its "ongoing philosophy" regarding its roofing products and even the basis for its name, CertainTeed, is "Quality made certain, satisfaction guaranteed". Defendant has not lived up to that promise.

6. Plaintiff's Shingles have begun to fail, are failing and will fail before the time period advertised, marketed and guaranteed by CertainTeed.

7. As a result, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered actual damages in that the roofs on their homes and other structures have and will continue to fail prematurely, resulting in damage to the underlying structure and requiring them to expend thousands of dollars to repair the damages associated with the incorporation of the Shingles into their homes or to prevent such damage from occurring. Damage caused by the defective shingles has included, but is not limited to: damage to underlying felt; damage to structural roof components; damage to plaster and sheetrock; and damage to walls and ceiling structural components.

8. Because of the relatively small size of the typical individual Class member's claims, and because most homeowners have only modest resources, it is unlikely that individual Class members could afford to seek recovery against Defendant on their own. This is especially true in light of the size and resources of the Defendant. A class action is, therefore, the only reasonable means by which Class members can obtain relief from this Defendant.

9. The class Shingles suffer from a set of common defects, as described herein. Despite receiving a litany of complaints during the Class Period from consumers, such as Plaintiff and the members of the Class, Defendant has refused to effectively notify consumers of the defects, or repair the property damaged by the defects.

PARTIES

10. At all relevant times Plaintiff and class representative Catherine Barrett was a citizen of Jackson, Michigan and purchased CertainTeed Shingles for installation on her home in approximately 1991. She first became aware of the problem with her shingles in 2006. However, Plaintiff had no reasonable way to discover that the Shingles were defective until shortly before Plaintiff filed this complaint.

11. Defendant CertainTeed Corporation is a corporation with its principal place of business in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. CertainTeed is a leading North American manufacturer of building materials including roofing, siding, insulation, windows and patio doors, fence, decking, railing, foundations and pipe. The company has approximately 7,000 employees and more than 40 manufacturing facilities throughout the United States. The company had sales of approximately $2.3 billion in 2003.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. Defendant, CertainTeed is headquartered in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania and conducts substantial business in Pennsylvania, including the sale and distribution of the Shingles in Pennsylvania and has sufficient contacts with Pennsylvania or otherwise intentionally avails itself of the laws and markets of Pennsylvania, so as to sustain this Court's jurisdiction over Defendant.

13. This Court has jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d) in that Plaintiff is a class member and citizen of Englewood, Florida and Defendant, CertainTeed, is a citizen of Pennsylvania and the amount in controversy exceeds Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000.00).

14. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1961, et seq. because Defendant's principal place of business is located in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania and as such, resides within this district.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS

15. This action has been brought and may properly be maintained as a class action pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, and case law thereunder on behalf of Plaintiff and all others similarly situated, with the Class defined as follows:

All individuals and entities that have owned, own, or acquired homes, residences, or other structures physically located in the United States from 1987 through the present on which CertainTeed Shingles are or have been installed. CertainTeed Shingles are defined to include without limitation the following brand names: Horizon, Independence, Hearthstead, Hallmark, Woodscape, CertainTeed, Sealdon and War-Sealdon. Excluded from the Class are Defendants, any entity in which Defendant has a controlling interest or which has a controlling interest of Defendant, and Defendant's legal representatives, assigns and successors. Also excluded are the judge to whom this case is assigned and any member of the judge's immediate family.

16. Members of the Class are so numerous that their individual joinder is impracticable. The proposed class contains hundreds and perhaps thousands of members. The precise number of Class members is unknown to Plaintiff. However, upon information and belief, Plaintiff believes it is well in excess of 1,000. The true number of Class members is likely to be known by Defendant, however, and thus, may be notified of the pendency of this action by first class mail, electronic mail, and by published notice.

17. There is a well-defined community of interest among members of the Class. The claims of the representative Plaintiff are typical of the claims of the Class in that the representative Plaintiff, like all Class members, own homes, residences, or other structures on which defective Shingles manufactured by Defendant have been installed. Those Shingles have failed, will continue to fail, prematurely. The representative Plaintiff, like all Class members, have been damaged by Defendant's conduct in that they have suffered damages as a result of the incorporation of the defective Shingles into their homes or structures. Furthermore, the factual bases of Defendant's conduct are common to all Class members and represent a common thread of negligent conduct resulting in injury to all members of the Class.

18. There are numerous questions of law and fact common to Plaintiff and the Class, and those questions predominate over any questions that may affect individual Class members, and include the following:

- a. Whether the Shingles are defective in that they are subject to moisture penetration and cracking, prematurely fail, and are not suitable for use as an exterior roofing product for the length of time advertised, marketed and warranted;
- b. Whether Defendant should have known of the defective nature of the Shingles;
- c. Whether Defendant owed a duty to Plaintiff and the Class to exercise reasonable and ordinary care in the formulation, testing, design, manufacture and marketing of the Shingles;
- d. Whether Defendant breached its duty to Plaintiff and the Class by designing, manufacturing, advertising and selling to Plaintiff and the Class defective Shingles and by failing promptly to remove the Shingles from the marketplace or take other appropriate remedial action;
- e. Whether the Shingles failed to perform in accordance with the reasonable expectations of ordinary consumers;
- f. Whether the benefits of the design of the Shingles do not outweigh the risk of their failure;
- g. Whether the Shingles fail to perform as advertised and warranted;
- h. Whether Plaintiffs and the Class are entitled to compensatory damages, and the amount of such damages; and

i. Whether Defendant should be declared financially responsible for notifying all Class members of their defective Shingles and for all damages associated with the incorporation of such Shingles into Class Members' homes, residences and other structures.

19. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class.

Plaintiff has retained counsel with substantial experience in prosecuting statewide, multistate and national consumer class actions, actions involving defective products, and, specifically, actions involving defective construction materials. Plaintiff and her counsel are committed to prosecuting this action vigorously on behalf of the Class they represent, and have the financial resources to do so. Neither Plaintiff nor her counsel have any interest adverse to those of the Class.

20. Plaintiff and the members of the Class have all suffered and will continue to suffer harm and damages as a result of Defendant's conduct. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. Absent a class action, the vast majority of the Class members likely would find the cost of litigating their claims to be prohibitive, and would have no effective remedy at law. Because of the relatively small size of the individual Class member's claims, it is likely that only a few Class members could afford to seek legal redress for Defendant's conduct. Further, the cost of litigation could well equal or exceed any recovery. Absent a class action, Class members will continue to incur damages without remedy. Class treatment of common questions of law and fact would also be superior to multiple individual actions or piecemeal litigation in that class treatment would conserve the resources of the courts and the litigants, and will promote consistency and efficiency of adjudication.

ESTOPPEL FROM PLEADING THE STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

21. Defendant is estopped from relying on any statutes of limitation by virtue of its acts of fraudulent concealment, which include Defendant's intentional concealment from Plaintiff and the general public that their shingles were defective, while continually marketing the Shingles as dependable products that would last for decades. Defendant's acts of fraudulent concealment include failing to disclose that its Shingles were defectively manufactured and would deteriorate in less than half their expected lifetime, leading to damage to the very structures they were purchased to protect. Through such acts Defendant was able to conceal from the public the truth concerning their product.

22. Until shortly before Plaintiff filed the original complaint, Plaintiff had no knowledge that the CertainTeed Shingles she purchased were defective and unreliable. Plaintiff had no reasonable way to discover this defect until shortly before Plaintiff filed this complaint.

23. Defendant had a duty to disclose that its Shingles were defective, unreliable and inherently flawed in their design and/or manufacturer.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Negligence)

24. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 23 of this Complaint.

25. Defendant had a duty to Plaintiff and the Class to exercise reasonable and ordinary care in the formulation, testing, design, manufacture, and marketing of the Shingles.

26. Defendant breached its duty to Plaintiff and the Class by designing, manufacturing, advertising and selling to Plaintiff and the Class a product that is defective and will fail prematurely, and by failing to promptly remove the Shingles from the marketplace or to take other appropriate remedial action.

27. Defendant knew or should have known that the Shingles were defective, would fail prematurely, were not suitable for use as an exterior roofing product, and otherwise were not as warranted and represented by Defendant.

28. As a direct and proximate cause of Defendant's negligence, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered actual damages in that they purchased and installed on their homes and other structures an exterior roofing product that is defective and that fails prematurely due to moisture penetration. These failures have caused and will continue to cause Plaintiff and the Class to incur expenses repairing and/or replacing their roofs as well as the resultant, progressive property damage.

29. Plaintiff on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated, demand judgment against Defendant for compensatory damages for herself and each member of the Class, for establishment of a common fund, plus attorney's fees, interest and costs.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Strict Products Liability)

30. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 29 of this Complaint.

31. At all relevant times, Defendant was engaged in the business of manufacturing the Shingles which are the subject of this action.

32. The Shingles were expected to and did reach Plaintiff and the Class without substantial change to the condition in which they were manufactured and sold by Defendant.

33. The Shingles installed on Plaintiff's and the Class Members' properties were and are defective and unfit for their intended use. The use of the Shingles has caused and will continue to cause property damage to Plaintiff and the Class.

34. Defendant's Shingles fail to perform in accordance with the reasonable expectations of Plaintiff, the Class, and ordinary consumers, and the benefits of the design of the Shingles do not outweigh the risk of their failure.

35. By reason of the foregoing, Defendant is strictly liable to Plaintiff and the Class.

36. Plaintiff on behalf of herself and all other similarly situated, demand judgment against Defendant for compensatory damages for herself and each member of the Class, for the establishment of the common fund, plus attorney's fees, interest and costs.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Express Warranty)

37. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 36 of this Complaint.

38. Defendant marketed and sold its Shingles into the stream of commerce with the intent that the Shingles would be purchased by Plaintiff and members of the Class.

39. Defendant expressly warranted that its Shingles are permanent, impact resistant, and would maintain their structural integrity. Defendant's representatives through its written warranties regarding the durability of, and the quality of, the Shingles created express warranties which became part of the basis of the bargain Plaintiff and members of the Class entered into when they purchased the Shingles.

40. Defendant expressly warranted that the structural integrity of the Shingles purchased by Plaintiff and Class members would last at least 30 years.

41. Defendant breached its express warranties to Plaintiff and the Class in that Defendant's Shingles are neither permanent nor impact resistant and did not, and do not, maintain their structural integrity and perform as promised. Defendant's Shingles crack, split, discolor, delaminate and deteriorate prematurely, and they otherwise do not perform as warranted by Defendant, and they have caused and/or are causing damage to the underlying roof elements, structures and/or interiors of Plaintiff's and Class members' homes, residences and structures.

42. Defendant's warranties fail of their essential purpose because it purports to warrant that the Shingles will be free from structural breakdown for as much as 30 years when, in fact, Defendant's Shingles fail far short of the applicable warranty period.

43. Moreover, because the warranties limit Plaintiff's and Class members' recovery to replacement of the Shingles piece by piece, with replacement labor not included, Defendant's warranties are woefully inadequate to repair and replace failed roofing, let alone any damage suffered to the underlying structure due to the inadequate protection provided by the CertainTeed Shingles. The remedies available in Defendant's warranties are limited to such an extent that they do not provide a minimum adequate remedy.

44. The limitations on remedies and the exclusions in Defendant's warranties are unconscionable and unenforceable.

45. Defendant has denied and/or failed to pay in full the warranty claims.

46. As a result of Defendant's breach of its express warranties, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered actual damages in that they purchased and installed on their homes and other structures an exterior roofing product that is defective and that has failed or is failing prematurely due to moisture penetration. This failure has required and/or is requiring Plaintiff and the Class incur significant expense in repairing and/or replacing their roofs. Replacement is required to prevent on-going and future damage to the underlying roof elements, structures and/or interiors of Plaintiff's and Class members' homes and structures.

47. Plaintiff on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated, demand judgment against Defendant for compensatory damages for herself and each member of the Class, for the establishment of the common fund, plus attorney's fees, interest and costs.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Implied Warranty)

48. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 47 of this Complaint.

49. At all times mentioned herein, Defendant manufactured and/or supplied CertainTeed Shingles, and prior to the time it was purchased by Plaintiff, and Defendant impliedly warranted to Plaintiff, and to Plaintiff's agents, that the product was of merchantable quality and fit for the use for which it was intended.

50. Plaintiff and Plaintiff's agents relied on the skill and judgment of the Defendant in using the aforesaid product.

51. The Product was unfit for its intended use and it was not of merchantable quality, as warranted by Defendant in that it had propensities to break down and fail to perform and protect when put to its intended use. The aforesaid product did cause Plaintiff to sustain damages as herein alleged.

52. After Plaintiff was made aware of Plaintiff's damages as a result of the aforesaid product, notice was duly given to Defendant of the breach of said warranty.

53. As a direct and proximate result of the breach of said warranties, Plaintiff and the Class members suffered and will continue to suffer loss as alleged herein in an amount to be determined at trial.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law)

54. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 53 of this Complaint.

55. Defendant is a manufacturer, marketer, seller and/or distributor of the Shingles.

56. The conduct described above and throughout this Complaint took place within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and constitutes unfair methods of competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices in violation of §201-2(4),(v),(vii), and (xxi) of the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law (hereinafter, “UTPCPL”), 73 Pa.C.S.A. §201-1, et seq.

57. The UTPCPL applies to the claims of all the Class members because the conduct which constitutes violations of the UTPCPL by the Defendant occurred within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

58. In violation of the UTPCPL, Defendant omitted and/or concealed material facts from Plaintiff and members of the Class regarding the quality, characteristics, benefits and/or uses of the Shingles.

59. The omissions described herein were likely to deceive consumers into purchasing the Shingles.

60. As a direct and proximate cause of the violation of the UTPCPL, described above, Plaintiff and other members of the Class have been injured in that they have purchased the defective Shingles for personal, family or household purposes based on nondisclosure of material facts alleged above.

61. Defendant knew or should have known that the Shingles were defective, would fail prematurely, were not suitable for use as an exterior roofing product, and otherwise were not as warranted and represented by Defendant.

62. Defendants deceived and continued to deceive consumers. This conduct constitutes unfair or deceptive acts or practices within meaning of the UTPCPL. This illegal conduct is continuing, with no indication that Defendant will cease.

63. Defendant’s actions and connection with the manufacturing and distributing of the Shingles as set forth herein evidences a lack of good faith, honesty in fact and observance of fair dealing so as to constitute unconscionable commercial practices, in violation of the Pennsylvania Unfair Trade Practices Act and Consumer Protection Law, 73 Pa.C.S.A. §201-1, et seq.

64. Defendant acted willfully, knowingly, intentionally, unconscionably and with reckless indifference when it committed these acts of consumer fraud.

65. As a direct and proximate result of Defendant's unfair and deceptive acts and practices, Plaintiff and the other members of the Class will suffer damages, which include, without limitation, cost to inspect, repair and/or replace their Shingles and other property in an amount to be determined at trial.

66. As a result of the acts of consumer fraud described above, Plaintiff and the Class have suffered ascertainable loss-actual damages that include the purchase price of the products- for which Defendant is liable to the Plaintiff and the Class for treble their ascertainable losses, plus attorneys' fees and costs, along with equitable relief prayed for herein in this Complaint.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Fraudulent Concealment)

67. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 66 of this Complaint.

68. At all times mentioned herein, Defendant had the duty and obligation to disclose to Plaintiff the true facts concerning the CertainTeed Shingles; that is that said product was defective and unreliable. Defendant made the affirmative representations as set forth above to Plaintiff, the Class and the general public prior to the date Plaintiff purchased the CertainTeed Shingles while concealing the material described herein including the following:

69. At all times mentioned herein, Defendant had the duty and obligation to disclose to Plaintiff the true facts concerning the CertainTeed Shingles, that is that CertainTeed Shingles were defective, would prematurely fail, and otherwise were not as warranted and represented by Defendant.

70. At all times mentioned herein, Defendant intentionally, willfully, and maliciously concealed or suppressed the facts set forth above from Plaintiff and with the intent to defraud as herein alleged.

71. At all times mentioned herein, Plaintiff was not aware of the facts set forth above and had he been aware of said facts, she would not have acted as she did, that is, would not have purchased CertainTeed Shingles.

72. As a result of the concealment or suppression of the facts set forth above, Plaintiff and the Class members sustained damages in an amount to be determined at trial.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Contract)

73. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 72 of this Complaint.

74. Plaintiff and the Class members have entered into certain contracts and warranty agreements with Defendant, including an express warranty. Pursuant to these contracts and agreements, including the express warranty, Defendant would provide Plaintiff and the Class members with Shingles that were of merchantable quality and fit for the use for which they were intended. Defendant was further obligated pursuant to the express warranty to repair and/or replace any defects or problems with the Shingles that Plaintiff and the Class members experienced. In exchange for these duties and obligations, Defendant received payment of the purchase price for these Shingles from Plaintiff and the Class.

75. Plaintiff and the Class satisfied their obligations under these contracts, warranties and agreements.

76. Defendant failed to perform as required by the express warranty and breached said contracts and agreements because it provided Plaintiff and the Class with Shingles that are defective and unfit for their intended use and failed to appropriately repair and/or replace the Shingles.

77. As a result of the foregoing, Plaintiff and the Class members are entitled to compensatory damages in an amount to be proven at trial.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Unjust Enrichment)

78. Plaintiff incorporates by reference each of the allegations contained in Paragraphs 1 through 77 of this Complaint.

79. Substantial benefits have been conferred on Defendant by Plaintiff and the Class and Defendant have appreciated these benefits.

80. Defendant's acceptance and retention of these benefits under the circumstances make it inequitable for Defendant to retain the benefit without payment of the value to the Plaintiff and the Class.

81. Defendant, by the deliberate and fraudulent conduct complained of herein, has been unjustly enriched in a manner which warrants restitution.

82. As a proximate consequence of Defendant's improper conduct, the Plaintiff and the Class members were injured. Defendant has been unjustly enriched, and in equity, should not be allowed to obtain this benefit.
